

Pivotal Insight Announces Blanket Purchase Agreement to provide Program Management Support Services to the Department of Health and Human Services

Washington, DC – July 29, 2008 – Pivotal Insight, LLC, a government management consulting and research firm, announces an award by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to provide program management support services to the Office of Security and Strategic Information (OSSI) through a 2.5 year BPA. Pivotal Insight has supported HHS' Homeland Security Presidential Directive 12 (HSPD-12) Program since 2006. Since that time, OSSI has assumed responsibility for the HSPD-12 Program as well as other critical security and preparedness functions. Building upon its proven track record, Pivotal Insight will provide enhanced support to the organization. This contract presents Pivotal with a scope of work beyond HSPD-12 into program management activities related to other functional areas, including physical security, personnel security, cyber security, and strategic information.

“Pivotal looks forward to a close partnership with OSSI as it continues to serve critical functions to support the HHS mission,” stated David Bergert, President of Pivotal Insight.

About the Office of Security and Strategic Information

OSSI provides broad, Department-wide policy direction, standards setting, coordination, and performance assessment for the organizational components of HHS, especially in the areas of: physical security; personnel security and suitability; security awareness; information security; communications security; general security and threat assessments; and strategic information programs and activities. OSSI functions as a platform to further HHS' roles in its various missions for protecting and improving the public health of the nation, by protecting employees and visitors and Departmentally-owned and occupied critical infrastructure, and by ensuring the integration of strategic medical, public health, biomedical, and national security information.
