

Pivotal Insight Announces Contract to provide Program Management Support Services to the Department of Health and Human Services

Washington, DC – July 28, 2008 – Pivotal Insight, LLC, a government management consulting and research firm, announces an award by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to provide program management support services for the Property Management Information System (PMIS) program management office. Under this tasking, Pivotal Insight will continue to provide PMO support, configuration and requirements management, acquisition support, and operations and maintenance transition support for the consolidation of personal property asset management systems. “We are very happy to continue to support this effort and look forward to helping HHS realize the const savings associated with this systems consolidation effort,” stated David Cooke, CEO of Pivotal Insight. PMIS will streamline the asset management and property reporting requirements across all the agencies within the department.

About the Office of Acquisition, Management, and Policy

The Office of Acquisition Management and Policy (OAMP) provides management direction and leadership for HHS business practices, including logistics and small business policy. Provides Department-wide leadership in these areas through policy development, performance measurement and training. Represents the Department dealings with OMB, GAO and other Federal agencies and Congress in the areas of procurement, logistics and small business utilization. OAMP also fosters creativity and innovation in the administration of these functions throughout the Department. OAMP integrates technology, talented experienced staff, and sound business practices to offer mission-oriented and cost-effective risk management in the Department's business areas of acquisition, logistics and small business.
